

« Multilevel analysis »

28-29 August 2013

Course deliverer : Prof. Dominik Schöbi

Multilevel analysis has become the standard technique to analyze clustered data such data collected from groups or repeated measures. The goal of the course is to provide a gentle, applied introduction to basic multilevel modeling, and enable participants to do basic analyses on their own data.